

“Best Chili Championship of the World” Rules and Regulations

The Best Chili Championship of the World” will take place Saturday November 7th after the racing concludes for the day. It will start around five thirty or six, the same time as the wiener roast and the Corn Hole Championship of the World.

Rules

There aren't very many really. Bring your chili to the track ready to eat. Bring a table or something to set it on. I'll try to provide power for you to warm up your chili before we begin the contest but all I have are generators that will also be running our lights for the corn hole tournament so you might want to be prepared to provide your own heat. Bring bowls, spoons and napkins. You have to eat your chili first. Then our judges will taste each chili and decide who made the best chili and they'll win $100.00 in cash and a plaque. I love chili and I'll be a judge and we'll pick some more judges. Good luck!!

Maybe someone will make a bunch of grilled cheese sandwiches.
